Maintaining your high standards in quality and service is no mean feat. That's why Clearlite chose the latest and best technology available today for the production of their impressive bathroom-ware range. The Geiss T8 Machine installed by regional agents for Geiss AG, Modern Plastics Equipment took only 3 days from removal from a 40 ft container to its placement and successfully first cycle of the machine. Modern Plastics Equipment also performed its routine safety check of all electrical, electronic, and mechanical hardware prior to powering up. This was No 30 for MPE sold in the Australasian market and marked over 18 years of cooperation with Geiss AG organization.

As in all installations a comprehensive training program was offered to all staff involved in the operation and maintenance of the Vacuum Forming Machine.

It must be recognised that all companies that invest in Geiss Technology are constantly updated with the most recent advances and several options are dormant in their operating system and can be easily activated when the need arises.

We congratulate Clearlite Management for purchasing the best.

Another success story.
